Seventy-one people were killed and 500 others injured when a suicide bomber blew himself up near the entrance of a security checkpoint in Kabul yesterday, Afghan officials said. The blast was one of the deadliest attacks in the Afghan capital in recent months, and it comes amid growing concern over the security situation in the country.

The blast occurred at about 3 p.m. local time near a intelligence agency compound in the city's west, said Taliban spokesman Zabihullah Mujahid. Mujahid, who gave no further details, said the attackers were trying to target security forces at the compound.

A spokesman for the Afghan Interior Ministry said the attackers were believed to be part of a network that had been responsible for a series of bombings in Kabul in recent weeks.

The blast is the latest in a string of attacks in Kabul, where violence has been on the rise in recent months. The city has been the site of several major explosions and gunfights in recent weeks, including a suicide bombing that killed at least 18 people in a crowded market in the city's west.

The Afghan government has been seeking the help of international allies to improve its security forces, but the Taliban have continued to mount attacks despite the presence of foreign troops in the country.

The attack comes as the United States is in the process of withdrawing its forces from Afghanistan, with a deadline for the complete withdrawal set for September 11. The US military has been battling the Taliban and other insurgent groups in the country for more than a decade, and the withdrawal is part of a negotiated peace deal reached between the US and the Taliban in February.

However, the Taliban have continued to expand their control in some parts of the country, and the violence has been increasing in recent months. The Afghan government has been seeking the help of international allies to improve its security forces, but the Taliban have continued to mount attacks despite the presence of foreign troops in the country.
ALP Deployed to 6 More Nangarhar Towns

KABUL - As the ANA's new political campaigns near to half, several Nangarhar officials said on Monday that the presidential candidates were making all-out efforts to clear the dust from the elections.

The tension in the province was mounting as a result of the accumulating demands from different candidate groups, ANA local official Ahmad Shukri, a deputy provincial councilor, told Pajhwok. ANA officials on Monday launched a search operation, sparkling and attacking with Kalashnikovs on their way to a nearby town.

Nearly 2,300 families had fled the area, he said, hurling stones and throwing gas cylinders. Kazi said a 12-year-old boy was killed after being attacked by a vehicle.

Lack of Awareness about Presidential Candidates: Report

KABUL - The elections in Afghanistan are facing the additional challenge of understanding the candidates, with many people saying that they didn't know the exact number of candidates running for the 2014 elections.

The residents of Herat Province told TOLOnews that there are only seven candidates, one of whom is Dr. Sayed Ahmad Sulaimani and the other is Jara Ali, from Herat Province. The residents also said that the presidential candidates are facing a lot of difficulties.

MALMEAID - The government in Jalalabad, Nangarhar, is working on a new campaign to educate the public about the candidates and the election process.

The campaign is being held under the direction of the Ministry of Interior for Public Relations and funders. The government officials are visiting the districts in the province and explaining the election process to the people. The campaign is being held in collaboration with local media and community leaders.

Pakistani Peace Talks May Yield Ceasefire

The Pakistani government and the Taliban have agreed to agree on a ceasefire, which was supposed to be implemented on several points of the agreement. The government said that the ceasefire will be implemented in two phases, the first phase being the implementation of the ceasefire on the border between Pakistan and Afghanistan, and the second phase being the implementation of the ceasefire on the border between Pakistan and India.

The government also said that the ceasefire will be implemented in two phases, the first phase being the implementation of the ceasefire on the border between Pakistan and Afghanistan, and the second phase being the implementation of the ceasefire on the border between Pakistan and India.

The government also said that the ceasefire will be implemented in two phases, the first phase being the implementation of the ceasefire on the border between Pakistan and Afghanistan, and the second phase being the implementation of the ceasefire on the border between Pakistan and India.

The government also said that the ceasefire will be implemented in two phases, the first phase being the implementation of the ceasefire on the border between Pakistan and Afghanistan, and the second phase being the implementation of the ceasefire on the border between Pakistan and India.
Troop Departure Weighs on US Aid in Afghanistan

WASHINGTON — Un- certainty about American troops might remain in Afghanistan after the U.S. forces withdraw from the Base- line withdrawal as a potential withdrawal could lead to a further deteriora- tion of security in the country. Former administration officials have warned that if the United States were to eventually withdraw troops, it could lead to an increase in violence and instability. However, officials in the Afghan government have rejected these concerns and have stated that they are confident in their ability to maintain security and stability in the country. A military official in Kabul said that they are prepared to take over security responsibilities once the American forces leave the country.

Destory Obama Bin Laden: Photos Immediately: US Admiral

Karbog - In a speech to Congress, Obama declared that the United States had completed its mission in Afghanistan. The President said that the country was safer and more prosperous than it was before the war began. He also announced that the US military would begin to withdraw its forces from Afghanistan within the next year. The President’s announcement was met with widespread approval and support, with many praising him for his leadership in bringing the war to a successful conclusion.

Nato says it may send a small military contingent to help Afghanistan maintain security after the US and other international forces withdraw. The announcement comes after a meeting of Nato defense ministers in Brussels, where they discussed the future of the mission in Afghanistan. The ministers agreed to increase the training and support provided to the Afghan forces, in order to help them maintain security after the international forces leave the country.

Killed in Krisht: Five Taliban Insurgents Killed in Joint Raids by ANSF

Kara Shal - Five Taliban insurgents were killed in joint operations by the Afghan National Security Forces (ANSF) and the Afghan National Army. The operation was conducted in the Bagram district of Kabul province, where the insurgents were operating. The ANSF said that the operation was carried out in response to intelligence indicating that the Taliban were planning an attack in the area.

Civilians killed in operation: Five Afghan civilians were killed in a joint operation by the Afghan National Army and the ANSF in the Bagram district of Kabul province. The ANSF said that the operation was carried out in response to intelligence indicating that the Taliban were planning an attack in the area. The ANSF said that the civilians were killed by a roadside bomb that was planted by the Taliban in the area.

Four Afghan soldiers Die in Separate IED Attacks

Kabul - Four Afghan soldiers were killed in separate IED attacks in the Kabul province. The Afghan National Army said that the soldiers were killed while they were on patrol in the area. The ANA said that the attacks were likely carried out by the Taliban, who have been active in the region.

Obama Bin Laden: Photos Immediately: US Admiral

Karbog - In a speech to Congress, Obama declared that the United States had completed its mission in Afghanistan. The President said that the country was safer and more prosperous than it was before the war began. He also announced that the US military would begin to withdraw its forces from Afghanistan within the next year. The President’s announcement was met with widespread approval and support, with many praising him for his leadership in bringing the war to a successful conclusion.

Nato says it may send a small military contingent to help Afghanistan maintain security after the US and other international forces withdraw. The announcement comes after a meeting of Nato defense ministers in Brussels, where they discussed the future of the mission in Afghanistan. The ministers agreed to increase the training and support provided to the Afghan forces, in order to help them maintain security after the international forces leave the country.

Killed in Krisht: Five Taliban Insurgents Killed in Joint Raids by ANSF

Kara Shal - Five Taliban insurgents were killed in joint operations by the Afghan National Security Forces (ANSF) and the Afghan National Army. The operation was conducted in the Bagram district of Kabul province, where the insurgents were operating. The ANSF said that the operation was carried out in response to intelligence indicating that the Taliban were planning an attack in the area.

Civilians killed in operation: Five Afghan civilians were killed in a joint operation by the Afghan National Army and the ANSF in the Bagram district of Kabul province. The ANSF said that the operation was carried out in response to intelligence indicating that the Taliban were planning an attack in the area. The ANSF said that the civilians were killed by a roadside bomb that was planted by the Taliban in the area.

Four Afghan soldiers Die in Separate IED Attacks

Kabul - Four Afghan soldiers were killed in separate IED attacks in the Kabul province. The Afghan National Army said that the soldiers were killed while they were on patrol in the area. The ANA said that the attacks were likely carried out by the Taliban, who have been active in the region.

Obama Bin Laden: Photos Immediately: US Admiral

Karbog - In a speech to Congress, Obama declared that the United States had completed its mission in Afghanistan. The President said that the country was safer and more prosperous than it was before the war began. He also announced that the US military would begin to withdraw its forces from Afghanistan within the next year. The President’s announcement was met with widespread approval and support, with many praising him for his leadership in bringing the war to a successful conclusion.

Nato says it may send a small military contingent to help Afghanistan maintain security after the US and other international forces withdraw. The announcement comes after a meeting of Nato defense ministers in Brussels, where they discussed the future of the mission in Afghanistan. The ministers agreed to increase the training and support provided to the Afghan forces, in order to help them maintain security after the international forces leave the country.

Killed in Krisht: Five Taliban Insurgents Killed in Joint Raids by ANSF

Kara Shal - Five Taliban insurgents were killed in joint operations by the Afghan National Security Forces (ANSF) and the Afghan National Army. The operation was conducted in the Bagram district of Kabul province, where the insurgents were operating. The ANSF said that the operation was carried out in response to intelligence indicating that the Taliban were planning an attack in the area.

Civilians killed in operation: Five Afghan civilians were killed in a joint operation by the Afghan National Army and the ANSF in the Bagram district of Kabul province. The ANSF said that the operation was carried out in response to intelligence indicating that the Taliban were planning an attack in the area. The ANSF said that the civilians were killed by a roadside bomb that was planted by the Taliban in the area.

Four Afghan soldiers Die in Separate IED Attacks

Kabul - Four Afghan soldiers were killed in separate IED attacks in the Kabul province. The Afghan National Army said that the soldiers were killed while they were on patrol in the area. The ANA said that the attacks were likely carried out by the Taliban, who have been active in the region.

Obama Bin Laden: Photos Immediately: US Admiral

Karbog - In a speech to Congress, Obama declared that the United States had completed its mission in Afghanistan. The President said that the country was safer and more prosperous than it was before the war began. He also announced that the US military would begin to withdraw its forces from Afghanistan within the next year. The President’s announcement was met with widespread approval and support, with many praising him for his leadership in bringing the war to a successful conclusion.

Nato says it may send a small military contingent to help Afghanistan maintain security after the US and other international forces withdraw. The announcement comes after a meeting of Nato defense ministers in Brussels, where they discussed the future of the mission in Afghanistan. The ministers agreed to increase the training and support provided to the Afghan forces, in order to help them maintain security after the international forces leave the country.
Increasing Role of Media in Afghanistan

The increasing role and effectiveness of media in the recent years is one of the positive trends of the past few years in the development process in all parts of the country. Media has not only increased the exposure of the Afghan people to the outside world but also emerged as a platform where people can have their say. It is through the media that the Afghan people can get information about the latest developments in the country and improve government transparency. Media is improving steadily that would cause the Afghan people to work to improve areas where the current administration is not doing well. It is on the verge of becoming a kind of a democratic setup. At present, there are dozens of television channels, newspapers, magazines and other elements of mass media in Afghanistan. The availability of some Afghan newspapers has brought a lot of life to the past history of the country. Almost a decade ago, there was present only one state-owned television channel and a single radio channel but in these ten years, we saw that there was a great need for the Afghan people to get a lot of new information. The large number of television and radio channels were created in order to provide information to the Afghan people in written papers with limited circulation while at present we have a large number of Afghan newspapers with different languages and elements of mass media. Each newspaper and other mass media also have their representative Fair Election Might Do Away Our Problems?

The national media are not only responsible for the political, cultural, and economical life of the country, but also have many more important functions. The media can serve as a source of information for the people, and help to promote democracy and human rights. The media can also act as a watchdog for the government, and hold it accountable for its actions. In addition, the media can help to promote the rule of law, and encourage the development of a civil society. Without a doubt, the Afghan media sector is an essential part of the democratic process, and plays a vital role in promoting peace and stability in Afghanistan.

February 12, 2014

Challenging the Proposals for Signing BSA

By: Massoud Karzai

I strongly believe that the Afghan people cannot and should not sign the so-called BSA with the US, which we have been told to sign within 30 days. My reason is simple: We cannot afford to sign any agreement on Afghan territories which will threaten our sovereignty. We can accept the agreements that do not threaten our sovereignty.

I will not accept any agreement that will affect or endanger the interests of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will take away the rights of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will lead to the destruction of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the safety of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the security of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the stability of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the development of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the prosperity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the freedoms of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the rights of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the dignity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the culture of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the traditions of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the values of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the customs of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the heritage of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the language of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the identity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the future of the Afghan people.

The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the rights of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the freedoms of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the dignity of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the culture of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the traditions of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the values of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the customs of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the heritage of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the language of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the identity of the Afghan people. The Afghan government has a responsibility to protect the future of the Afghan people.

I will not accept any agreement that will affect or endanger the interests of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will take away the rights of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will lead to the destruction of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the safety of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the security of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the stability of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the development of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the prosperity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the freedoms of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the rights of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the dignity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the culture of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the traditions of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the values of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the customs of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the heritage of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the language of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the identity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the future of the Afghan people.

I strongly believe that the Afghan people cannot and should not sign the so-called BSA with the US, which we have been told to sign within 30 days. My reason is simple: We cannot afford to sign any agreement on Afghan territories which will threaten our sovereignty. We can accept the agreements that do not threaten our sovereignty.

I will not accept any agreement that will affect or endanger the interests of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will take away the rights of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will lead to the destruction of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the safety of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the security of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the stability of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the development of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the prosperity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the freedoms of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the rights of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the dignity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the culture of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the traditions of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the values of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the customs of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the heritage of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the language of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the identity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the future of the Afghan people.

I strongly believe that the Afghan people cannot and should not sign the so-called BSA with the US, which we have been told to sign within 30 days. My reason is simple: We cannot afford to sign any agreement on Afghan territories which will threaten our sovereignty. We can accept the agreements that do not threaten our sovereignty.

I will not accept any agreement that will affect or endanger the interests of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will take away the rights of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will lead to the destruction of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the safety of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the security of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the stability of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the development of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the prosperity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the freedoms of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the rights of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the dignity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the culture of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the traditions of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the values of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the customs of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the heritage of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the language of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the identity of the Afghan people. I will not accept any agreement that will threaten the future of the Afghan people.
Entertainment

Afghan-Filmed Drama Views Fate of Forces’ Helpers

BERLIN — A drama high-lighting the problems facing foreign forces’ local helpers in Afghanistan, “Not Forgotten,” a war film made in de debut Tuesday at the Berlin Film Festival, thrilled in ternational industry competition entry from Austrian-bred director F.
A. Aladag follows the efforts of a German army captain to connect with locals via his German-speaking wife, 38-year-old Mohamed Aladag. The movie was made largely in Kandahar, in the same city of Muslim-majority Islam, where many are very fearful of being targeted.

Beyonce Knowles to Perform at BRIT Awards

NEW YORK — Beyonce will grace the stage at the ceremony for the first time in 10 years and she will join Katy Perry, Pharrell Williams, Alice Monkeys and Elle Goulding, reports contactmusic.com. Beyonce, already the premiere of “Beyonce Live Is But A Dream” at the Zeitgeist Theatre, in New York, Beyonce Knowles is

Nominees Hohnbom Three Weeks Ahead of Hollywood's Big Night

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. – This year’s Oscar
nominees gathered for the ultimate Hollywood power lunch in Beverly

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. – This year’s Oscar
nominees gathered for the ultimate Hollywood power lunch in Beverly

IS ’50 Shades of Christian Grey Based on an Italian Real Estate Agent?

WASINGTOM: – An Italian real estate agent claims that he inspired
the initial inspiration behind
the best-selling novel “50 Shades of Grey,”
which has sold over 200 million copies around the world. The agent, Cesare Fruzzo, claims that

Cape Canaveral, FL: Florida – Astronauts
have found an old and dis-
terrestrial galaxy that is believed to date back to a time when the

Overactive Immunity in Pregnancy Linked to Brain Damage in Offspring

MARYLAND – (The Nip-pocampus – part of the brain’s emotional and spatial navigation – was found smaller over the long term in rats offspring exposed to the overactive immune system in the womb, said researchers.

‘Mother Lode’ of Amazingly
Preserved Fossils Discovered in Canada

OTTAWA – Scientists are calling it the discovery of a lifetime. A team of scientists from the University of California in

Atkinson, Calif., and co-author of a new study announcing the finding, “It was an extremely
downright moment,”

The famous Burgess Shale, the best record of early life on Earth, scientists say.

When researchers at University of

“Beyonce Knowles to Perform at BRIT Awards

NEW YORK — Beyonce will grace the stage at the ceremony for the first time in 10 years and she will join Katy Perry, Pharrell Williams, Alice Monkeys and Elle Goulding, reports contactmusic.com. Beyonce, already the premier of “Beyonce Live Is But A Dream” at the Zeitgeist Theatre, in New York, Beyonce Knowles is

WASINGTOM: – Beyonce

is a “where crazy people live.”

The 35-year-old Oscar-winning actress said that she started doing commercials when she was five and when one day she was asked as a movie audition, she deecided she wanted to be an actress.

The 56-year-old director of the film said that one of the reasons for the success of the movie was because they believed that

Shirley Temple, iconic child star, dies at 85

S.An Francisco – Sh

ley Temple, the charming, child-star child who sang, danced and grinned her way into the hearts of Depression-era moviegoers, died. She was 85. Temple, known in private life as Shirley Temple Black, died after a brief illness at her home near San Francisco. She was surrounded by her family members and caregivers, her family said.

Is ’50 Shades of Christian Grey Based on an Italian Real Estate Agent?

WASHINGTON:– An Italian real estate agent claims that he inspired
the initial inspiration behind
the best-selling novel “50 Shades of Grey,”
which has sold over 200 million copies around the world. The agent, Cesare Fruzzo, claims that

Is ’50 Shades of Christian Grey Based on an Italian Real Estate Agent?

WASHINGTON:– An Italian real estate agent claims that he inspired
the initial inspiration behind
the best-selling novel “50 Shades of Grey,”
which has sold over 200 million copies around the world. The agent, Cesare Fruzzo, claims that

Cape Canaveral, FL: Florida – Astronauts
have found an old and dis-
terrestrial galaxy that is believed to date back to a time when the overactive immune system in the womb, said

researchers.

‘Mother Lode’ of Amazingly
Preserved Fossils Discovered in Canada

OTTAWA – Scientists are calling it the discovery of a lifetime. A team of scientists from the University of California in

“Mother Lode” of Amazingly
Preserved Fossils Discovered in Canada

OTTAWA – Scientists are calling it the discovery of a lifetime. A team of scientists from the University of California in

Atkinson, Calif., and co-author
of a new study announcing the
finding, “It was an extremely
downright moment,”

The Burgess Shale, the famous Shale, was the best record of early life on Earth, scientists say.

When researchers at University of

“Mother Lode” of Amazingly
Preserved Fossils Discovered in Canada

OTTAWA – Scientists are calling it the discovery of a lifetime. A team of scientists from the University of California in

Atkinson, Calif., and co-author
of a new study announcing the
finding, “It was an extremely
downright moment,”

The Burgess Shale, the famous Shale, was the best record of early life on Earth, scientists say.

When researchers at University of

Wenger Defends Ozil: He’s an Exceptional Player

Although Arsenal has been analysed for a number of years, Wenger has defended his former star, saying he is an “exceptional player”. The German international was sold to see off the interest of other clubs.

The German international was sold to see off the interest of other clubs.

Wenger was then asked about recent rumours that Van Persie might be open to return to the Emirates at the end of the season. Wenger’s response was swift and to the point. "We’re very happy with what we have now and we don’t think it’s the best way to talk about the situation that we have today.

Meanwhile, Wenger confirmed that Arsenal has won six straight domestic games and is on a run of six straight wins. "We are very confident that we can win this game," he said.

Arsenal Host United

Arsenal will be hoping to continue their recent good run of form when they face Manchester United at the Emirates on Sunday. The Gunners have won their last two matches, including a 1-0 victory over Everton last week.

Arsenal welcomed back midfielder Ramsey to the team for the first time since his injury in February. The Welshman has been in great form since his return and is expected to start against United.

Ramsey’s return will be a boost for Arsenal, who are looking to continue their unbeaten run in the Premier League. The Gunners have won seven of their last eight league games, and are currently sitting second in the table.

Arsenal have not beaten United in their last three meetings, with the last win coming back in 2011. The Gunners will be looking to end that run when they face the Red Devils.

German Takes Aim at Alpine History in Sochi Race

Ramana Polkova, 23, is an Austrian ski racer who has been one of the standout performers in this winter’s Alpine World Cup. Her recent streak of form has been impressive, and she is looking to continue her good run of form in the Sochi race.

Polkova has been in fine form this season, having won five of her last eight races. She is currently sitting second in the overall standings, just three points behind her compatriot Katharina Liensberger.

Polkova is looking to make her mark in Sochi, where she has never before competed. She is looking to make the most of her opportunity and produce a strong performance.

Robredo, Granollers Reach 2nd Round in Argentina

On a day filled with matching with plenty of match-making, fifth-seeded Marcel Granollers of Spain also entered the second round of the Copa Claro clay court tournament with a 7-5, 6-2 win over German Albert Geiger, while Guido Pella of Argentina defeated Guillermo Coria of Spain 7-6 (6), 6-4 to advance.

Argentina’s Carlos Berlocq defeated Joao Sousa of Portugal 6-3, 6-2 and Pablo Andujar of Spain came back to level his quarterfinal against Frenchman Fabrice Santoro 6-4, 7-6 (4). Spanish David Ferrer and third-seeded Feliciano Lopez of Spain also entered the second round with a 7-5, 6-3, 6-2 win over Albelo Berbel and Pablo Andujar.

People Look At The Clinton’s Financially

Now Says Li Na

Li Na, who is seeded to win the Qatar Open this week, is as amazed as anyone at the transformation in attitudes which have surrounded the tennis player since she won her second Grand Slam title here last year.

"Now, people look at the American Open champion with respect," she said. "They talk about what happens on the court and not whether she can win."

Li was seeded to win the Qatar Open title this week and is the first woman in the tournament’s history to be seeded No. 1 since its Melbourne Park debut in 2006.

"They talk about how she’s doing now, not what she did in the past," said Li, now 26, in a recent interview with the Associated Press. "That’s not like me. Now, people know exactly who she is playing. And they talk about what she is doing now, and how she is doing now.

"If you feel the same way, you are not excited about the tennis," Li said.

"That is very tiresome," Li said. "And they should feel passionate about the tennis, and there should be a great deal more access to the sport outside of the tournament," she added.

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.

"I am not going to pretend to think anything else," she said. "I am going to be realistic."

"That is why we need to see the player, the person, behind the player," she added.
W

Within a decade of its emergence as a new state, Afghanistan has been fighting a long and costly war against the Taliban. The Afghan people have experienced much suffering and loss, and many believe that their country will continue to be plagued by violence for years to come.

However, there is some hope on the horizon. In recent years, there have been several positive developments that could help bring about peace and stability in Afghanistan. For example, the United States and other countries have been providing assistance to the Afghan government, and there are signs that the Taliban may be willing to negotiate a ceasefire.

Additionally, there are efforts underway to rebuild the Afghan economy and provide basic services to the population. These initiatives could help create jobs and reduce the appeal of extremist groups.

Overall, while the situation in Afghanistan remains challenging, there are reasons to be hopeful for the future. With continued international support and a commitment to peace, Afghanistan could be on the path to stability and prosperity.

---

International Article

NATO’s New Frontier

By Andreas Fuglsang

A

An American sailing into a Spanish naval base this week will be the first to carry the NATO flag on a US Navy vessel. The move is a symbolic gesture of solidarity with Spain, which has been a key ally of the US in recent years.

The arrival of a NATO vessel in Spain also marks a significant milestone in the organization's history. NATO was founded in 1949 with the goal of deterring the spread of communism throughout Europe.

Since then, the alliance has grown to include 30 member countries, and it has played a vital role in maintaining peace and security in the region.

In recent years, NATO has faced numerous challenges, including Russian aggression in Ukraine and the rise of extremism in the Middle East. However, the alliance remains committed to its mission of defending its members.

The deployment of a US vessel in Spain is a clear indication of NATO's commitment to maintaining a strong presence in the region and ensuring the safety and security of its member countries.

---

Editorial and Opinions

Yeomen Federal Plan, an Awkward Paradox

Healthcare and safety are still a top priority for the US government. However, the Yeomen Federal Plan, which includes a federal lottery system for health insurance, has been met with mixed reactions by lawmakers and experts.

Some support the plan because it attempts to address the unequal distribution of healthcare resources. Others argue that it is too complex and may not effectively reduce healthcare costs.

Regardless of the criticisms, the Yeomen Federal Plan remains a hotly debated topic in the political arena. It will be interesting to see how this proposal is received by the American people and how it is implemented if it is passed into law.

---

Moeskies: Now and Then

By Mohammad Rashid Shah

Dow a pleasant summer day this year, I felt almost reduced to tears by the memory of my childhood. As I sat on the banks of the river, watching the children play and the ducks swimming gracefully, I couldn't help but think of the joy and simplicity of those carefree days.

I then remembered the hardships of my family's past. My parents, like many immigrants, struggled to make ends meet and provide for their children. However, they instilled in us the importance of education and hard work, and these values have guided us throughout our lives.

Looking back, I am grateful for the lessons I learned and the experiences I had. They have shaped me into the person I am today, and I am proud to be a part of a community that embraces diversity and encourages its members to strive for success.

---

Yeomen Federal Plan, an Awkward Paradox

Healthcare and safety are still a top priority for the US government. However, the Yeomen Federal Plan, which includes a federal lottery system for health insurance, has been met with mixed reactions by lawmakers and experts.

Some support the plan because it attempts to address the unequal distribution of healthcare resources. Others argue that it is too complex and may not effectively reduce healthcare costs.

Regardless of the criticisms, the Yeomen Federal Plan remains a hotly debated topic in the political arena. It will be interesting to see how this proposal is received by the American people and how it is implemented if it is passed into law.

---

Moeskies: Now and Then

By Mohammad Rashid Shah

Dow a pleasant summer day this year, I felt almost reduced to tears by the memory of my childhood. As I sat on the banks of the river, watching the children play and the ducks swimming gracefully, I couldn't help but think of the joy and simplicity of those carefree days.

I then remembered the hardships of my family's past. My parents, like many immigrants, struggled to make ends meet and provide for their children. However, they instilled in us the importance of education and hard work, and these values have guided us throughout our lives.

Looking back, I am grateful for the lessons I learned and the experiences I had. They have shaped me into the person I am today, and I am proud to be a part of a community that embraces diversity and encourages its members to strive for success.
As security forces and security organs must do more to ensure good governance and security for UN forces in Afghanistan. He said foreign aid to Afghanistan was crucial and crucial to ensure the security of Afghanistan and the region. The Afghan parliament had already debated this issue, hoping it would bring positive results.

Turkey to Host...

...including the presidential and the special council elections on April 5, 2014, and the withdrawal of NATO forces. According to a statement released by the Pakistian embassy, the meeting will be attended by the Pakistani and Turkish national security directors. The Afghan and Pakistani leaderships agreed to hold a tri-ilateral meeting at the level of the prime minister, as well as the Afghan and Pakistani military chiefs.

SCA Pledge

Minister Abdul Hadi Ahmadzai has signed the SCA’s four-year plan as important in the varicies of the Afghan situation.

He said the Afghan parliament had endorsed the economic plan. The Afghan parlia-mament had endorsed the current situation’s plan.

The minister denied the siting of the talks in Kabul, due to the Afghan government’s efforts to improve people’s living conditions.

The minister described the talks as “useless,” and the Afghan government’s efforts to improve people’s living conditions.

That’s why thousands of people join each other in the protests. As Ahmadzai criticized the government for failing to do anything for the people, the security situation in the country was an area where no one made any effort.

Still, the minister said the government could play a positive role in the country’s development, but more has to be done to extract until the security situation was improved.

 направлен. The results of the presidential elections were announced. De-

The list included 456 pass taking part in the elections. The election was run-off, it is safe to assume Blink to跪下 or mid-May or early June.

William, the Wall Street Journal, has re-

Justice and the National Security Advisor.

The war lasted for over nine years and ended in early May 2013. The withdrawal of NATO forces from Afghanistan, which had been committed in the Afghan Over-

Ten years have passed since the Afghan Afghans and the international community signed the Bonn Agreement in December 2001. But what did we do to protect people from the attacks on civilians in Afghanistan?

The Afghan government has been accused of corruption and mismanagement.

Many Spanish think they have a to the courthouse door for reasons.

This is a country where there are no consequences for a toàn “I could not give him a free ride,” said Maria Landaverde, the president of the Trans-

The Afghan parliament had already debated this issue, hoping it would bring positive results.

The Afghan government agreed to the return of unaccompanied Afghans and citizens of other countries.

The Afghan government agrees to the return of unaccompanied Afghans and citizens of other countries, even if the children’s families cannot be located. The Afghan government agrees to the return of unaccompanied Afghans and citizens of other countries.

The Afghan government agrees to the return of unaccompanied Afghans and citizens of other countries, even if the children’s families cannot be located.

The Afghan government agrees to the return of unaccompanied Afghans and citizens of other countries.

The Afghan government agrees to the return of unaccompanied Afghans and citizens of other countries.

The Afghan government agrees to the return of unaccompanied Afghans and citizens of other countries.

The Afghan government agrees to the return of unaccompanied Afghans and citizens of other countries.

The Afghan government agrees to the return of unaccompanied Afghans and citizens of other countries.
Italy Parliament Rejects Bid to Impeach President Napolitano

ROME - Italy's parliament rejected a bid to impeach President Giorgio Napolitano on Tuesday, although opposition lawmakers kept up their attacks on the elderly, gray-haired, former head of state's handling of a bitter ethnic minority riot last week.

The move to oust the 87-year-old Napolitano, who has enjoyed high ratings among Italians, adds to headaches for governing coalition partners in the center-left Democratic party, widely credited with reviving liberal values through the turbulence of the 1970s and 1980s, but has faced growing criticism from both the left and the right.

Soros, the son of Jewish refugees, doubts that both Date and Napolitano were in touch with the full extent of Bulgaria's political background.

Some of them have even urged the EU to call off any further talks and end the constitutional debate. The EU's foreign policy chief, Catherine Ashton, said on Friday that the talks were unlikely to succeed. The European Union has said that it would not recognize any new government until there are signs of progress on the constitutional reform package.

The reasons for EU members to recognize the new government are unclear, given the lack of support from all parties in the coalition. The EU's recognition of the new government could also be seen as a sign of support for the country's economic reform efforts, as the EU is currently negotiating a bailout package with Greece.

The European Union has said that it will not recognize any new government until there are signs of progress on the constitutional reform package.

The reasons for EU members to recognize the new government are unclear, given the lack of support from all parties in the coalition. The EU's recognition of the new government could also be seen as a sign of support for the country's economic reform efforts, as the EU is currently negotiating a bailout package with Greece. However, the EU's recognition of the new government is not a guarantee that the country will receive the necessary financial support from the EU bailout fund.

The EU's recognition of the new government is not a guarantee that the country will receive the necessary financial support from the EU bailout fund. Consequently, the new government will have to work hard to obtain the necessary financial support from other international donors.

The new government will have to work hard to obtain the necessary financial support from other international donors. However, there is a possibility that the country may not receive the necessary financial support from the EU bailout fund, which could lead to a crisis in the country and a potential default on its debt.

The new government will have to work hard to obtain the necessary financial support from other international donors. However, there is a possibility that the country may not receive the necessary financial support from the EU bailout fund, which could lead to a crisis in the country and a potential default on its debt.

The new government will have to work hard to obtain the necessary financial support from other international donors. However, there is a possibility that the country may not receive the necessary financial support from the EU bailout fund, which could lead to a crisis in the country and a potential default on its debt.
KABUL - An influential international watchdog has asked all presidential runners to highlight their views on human rights issues of key concern in Afghanistan, including women’s protection, torture and arbitrary use of security forces.

In a questionnaire sent to all candidates, the Human Rights Watch (HRW) said the answers would be published to help the Afghans know their standing positions on questions of grave concern.

Tribal Council Endorses Abdullah

KABUL - The Tribal Society Council of Afghanistan has endorsed Presidential candidate Abdullah Abdullah on Monday. The council said the current government’s failure to maintain security and pursue effective measures against crime must be stopped.

An Ashton Concerned

KABUL - The European Union, on Tuesday voiced its grave concern on the lack of approval of the draft Criminal Procedure Code, which was underlined by women’s protection in Afghanistan. The EU Representative for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy Catherine Ashton said: “I am very concerned that this law would not prevent persecution for domestic violence and child abuse in Afghanistan.”

KABUL - Afghanistan National Security Forces (ANSF) are struggling to improve their combat capability as the US withholds intelligence, reconnaissance and bomb-detection technologies, according to the US Defense Security Agency. The 340,000 members of the ANSF have shown progress in their ability to clear insurgent areas and have exhibited problems holding cleared areas long-term. Based on this report, the Pentagon intelligence chief’s office prepared a memo for the Senate hearing tomorrow. Flynn’s prepared statement is in line with U.S. commanders in the field who argue that Afghan forces are indecisively ready to take over.

Russian Veterans Seek Political Reassassment of Afghanistan

KABUL - The head of the Afghanistan War Veterans is to ask the Russian President to reconsider his decision to withdraw Russian troops from Afghanistan. Frants Klintsevich was speaking at a conference dedicated to the 20th anniversary of the withdrawal of Soviet Union forces from Afghanistan.

KABUL - A new law was passed by the Afghan Parliament on Monday, banning the sale of alcohol.

FBI agent said that according to official statistics, the Soviet military lost 13,000 people killed after 50,000 wounded, while Afghanistan's 477 servicemen were taken prisoners and only a third were released. Over 20,000 Russian servicemen and 20,000 Afghan servicemen were killed during the war. Russia deployed military forces in Afghanistan in 1979 after reported requests by the Kabul government trying to suppress armed Islamic opposition. According to Flynn, there's a serious threat to ensure U.S. commanders to the field in Afghanistan are increasingly ready to take over.

First Polio Case Recorded in Kabul in More than a Decade

KABUL - Kabul has recorded its first polio case since 2001, raising alarm in the city and prompting the Afghan health ministry to launch a three-day polio vaccination campaign.

A three-year-old girl, Sakina, who was diagnosed after she was declared as paralyzed, said that she couldn’t ambulate on her feet.

A daughter of a taxi driver and from a nomad tribe, Sakina was taken to a hospital to undergo treatment, according to the Ministry of Health said on Tuesday.

Health workers moved to the neighborhood where Sakina lives and other children were vaccinated after being declared as similar to the virus.

KABUL - Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu on Tuesday met with Afghan President Hamid Karzai, a meeting aimed at boosting bilateral relations. He is accompanied by senior officials from the Afghan government.

ANSF Struggle to Hold Land: Defense Agency

KABUL - Afghanistan National Security Forces (ANSF) are struggling to improve their combat capability as the US withholds intelligence, reconnaissance and bomb-detection technologies, according to the U.S. Defense Security Agency. The 340,000 members of the ANSF have shown progress in their ability to clear insurgent areas and have exhibited problems holding cleared areas long-term. Based on this report, the Pentagon intelligence chief’s office prepared a memo for the Senate hearing tomorrow. Flynn’s prepared statement is in line with U.S. commanders in the field who argue that Afghan forces are indecisively ready to take over.

US Concerns Afghan Decision to Go Ahead with Detainee Release

WASHINGTON - U.S. sourc es in Afghanistan on Tuesday defended a decision by the Afghan government to move forward with plans to release additional detainees that the United States deems involved with training Taliban militants.

The information appears to have been obtained from a group of 88 detainees who have been held on a high-security prison in Parwan.

Pre-School/Primary/Secondary/High School CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY

Add: Prof Tayybet, Street No. 2 Kabul +93 780 300 200 780 300 200
E-mail: info@tayybet.com
http://www.tayybet.com

Weather Forecast: Brought to you by Eitanet

To order call 203-642-8461

President Heads to Ankara for Tripartite Summit

KARACHI: The Afghan Red Crescent Society (ARC) has rescued about 84 children, with serious burns and who were not identified, who might have been left behind by the Russians in Afghanistan.

The Pakistan Red Crescent Society (PRCS), spokesman Samir Afzali held a press conference on Tuesday and claimed that the children belonged to Kabul and other provinces and their treatment in Afghanistan was not possible.

She said the ARC’s would pay medical and treatment costs for the latest batch due to Kabul government for their treatment in Afghanistan.

The children were sent to 11 hospitals and the last batch of 41 children who were sent to Kabul government for treatment in Afghanistan was.

The children were sent to 11 hospitals and the last batch of 41 children who were sent to Kabul government for treatment in Afghanistan was.

Prisoners of Afghan government were taken to Kabul and other provinces and their treatment in Afghanistan was not possible.

She said the ARC’s would pay medical and treatment costs for the latest batch due to Kabul government for their treatment in Afghanistan.

The children were sent to 11 hospitals and the last batch of 41 children who were sent to Kabul government for treatment in Afghanistan was.