Human Rights Gains in Afghanistan at Risk: HRW

KARLIS - The Brief political transition and intensified armed conflict have triggered uncertainty in Afghanistan, placing millions of people at risk in the past decade at risk, an inter- national group of experts said.

The power-sharing deal between President Ashraf Ghani and Abdullah Abdullah, growing pressure from Taliban and the deteriorating security situation complicated the human rights agenda. Human Rights Watch said. In a 60-pg world report:

WH Refuses to Brand Talibans as Terrorist Outfit

HRW - The Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA) on Thursday called extremist a complex phenomenon that could be tackled only through joint national and global efforts.

A one-day conference titled "Deterritorialization in the Region" - was arranged in Kabul by MoFA

Regional Cooperation Needed to Combat Terror: MoFA

will be held in Pakistan and India. Greater cooperation at MoFA will be needed on Pakistan and India.

KARLIS - The political transition and intensified armed conflict have triggered uncertainty in Afghanistan, placing millions of people at risk in the past decade at risk, an international group of experts said. The power-sharing deal between President Ashraf Ghani and Abdullah Abdullah, growing pressure from Taliban and the deteriorating security situation complicated the human rights agenda. Human Rights Watch said. In a 60-pg world report:

WASHINGTON - Retreating that the Taliban were not a terrorist outfit, the White House (PHS) on Thursday said they were a dangerous organization with tactics akin to terrorism.

"We have expanded sig- nificant sanctions of money and American citizens members have grown in the fight against the Taliban because they do not challenge the United States' interests and services members inside of Afghan- ghanistan," the White

White House press secretary said. When asked why Talibans were not co-operated with a senior official said, "They (the Talibans) also carry out tactics that are akin to terrorism. They do pursue targets and in an effort to advance their agenda."

The United States has designated the Taliban "terrorist on P Coleman"

US Classifies Info about ANSF

KARLIS - The US military in Afghanistan is currently classifying information about Afghan National Security Forces (ANSF) with Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction (SIGAR) said on Thursday.

In a break with the past practice, the top US general was providing that kind of information could help the insurgents in planning attacks and create security risks for the US Armed forces. The federal watchdog, in its quaterly report, said the decision had left SIGAR unable to report on most of the US-supplied tactical efforts to build, train, equip and sustain the Afghan National Security Forces.

In a 15-page memo, Gen John Campbell wrote he could not say why the information was made available in the past, but he did say that "senior intelligence information that has been shared could be used against US or Afghan troops.

William Bratton refused to say publicly how S25 million authorized by Congress towards the war in Afghanistan, what "present for daily duties" and "surrly-

"White House press secretary said. When asked why Talibans were not opposed with a senior official said, "They (the Talibans) also carry out tactics that are akin to terrorism. They do pursue targets and in an effort to advance their agenda."

The United States has designated the Taliban "terrorist on P Coleman"

US Classifies Info about ANSF

KARLIS - The US military in Afghanistan is currently classifying information about Afghan National Security Forces (ANSF) with Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction (SIGAR) said on Thursday.

In a break with the past practice, the top US general was providing that kind of information could help the insurgents in planning attacks and create security risks for the US Armed forces. The federal watchdog, in its quartery report, said the decision had left SIGAR unable to report on most of the US-supplied tactical efforts to build, train, equip and sustain the Afghan National Security Forces.

In a 15-page memo, Gen John Campbell wrote he could not say why the information was made available in the past, but he did say that "senior intelligence information that has been shared could be used against US or Afghan troops.

William Bratton refused to say publicly how S25 million authorized by Congress towards the war in Afghanistan, what "present for daily duties" and "surrly-

The UN has designated the Taliban "terrorist on P Coleman"

KARLIS - The Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA) on Thursday called extremist a complex phenomenon that could be tackled only through joint national and global efforts.

A one-day conference titled "Deterritorialization in the Region" - was arranged in Kabul by MoFA

Regional Cooperation Needed to Combat Terror: MoFA

will be held in Pakistan and India. Greater cooperation at MoFA will be needed on Pakistan and India.

KARLIS - The political transition and intensified armed conflict have triggered uncertainty in Afghanistan, placing millions of people at risk in the past decade at risk, an international group of experts said. The power-sharing deal between President Ashraf Ghani and Abdullah Abdullah, growing pressure from Taliban and the deteriorating security situation complicated the human rights agenda. Human Rights Watch said. In a 60-pg world report:

WASHINGTON - Retreating that the Taliban were not a terrorist outfit, the White House (PHS) on Thursday said they were a dangerous organization with tactics akin to terrorism.

"We have expanded sig- nificant sanctions of money and American citizens members have grown in the fight against the Taliban because they do not challenge the United States' interests and services members inside of Afghan- ghanistan," the White

White House press secretary said. When asked why Talibans were not opposed with a senior official said, "They (the Talibans) also carry out tactics that are akin to terrorism. They do pursue targets and in an effort to advance their agenda."

The United States has designated the Taliban "terrorist on P Coleman"

US Classifies Info about ANSF

KARLIS - The US military in Afghanistan is currently classifying information about Afghan National Security Forces (ANSF) with Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction (SIGAR) said on Thursday.

In a break with the past practice, the top US general was providing that kind of information could help the insurgents in planning attacks and create security risks for the US Armed forces. The federal watchdog, in its quartery report, said the decision had left SIGAR unable to report on most of the US-supplied tactical efforts to build, train, equip and sustain the Afghan National Security Forces.

In a 15-page memo, Gen John Campbell wrote he could not say why the information was made available in the past, but he did say that "senior intelligence information that has been shared could be used against US or Afghan troops.

William Bratton refused to say publicly how S25 million authorized by Congress towards the war in Afghanistan, what "present for daily duties" and "surrly-

"White House press secretary said. When asked why Talibans were not opposed with a senior official said, "They (the Talibans) also carry out tactics that are akin to terrorism. They do pursue targets and in an effort to advance their agenda."

The United States has designated the Taliban "terrorist on P Coleman"

US Classifies Info about ANSF

KARLIS - The Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA) on Thursday called extremist a complex phenomenon that could be tackled only through joint national and global efforts.

A one-day conference titled "Deterritorialization in the Region" - was arranged in Kabul by MoFA

Regional Cooperation Needed to Combat Terror: MoFA

will be held in Pakistan and India. Greater cooperation at MoFA will be needed on Pakistan and India.

KARLIS - The political transition and intensified armed conflict have triggered uncertainty in Afghanistan, placing millions of people at risk in the past decade at risk, an international group of experts said. The power-sharing deal between President Ashraf Ghani and Abdullah Abdullah, growing pressure from Taliban and the deteriorating security situation complicated the human rights agenda. Human Rights Watch said. In a 60-pg world report:

WASHINGTON - Retreating that the Taliban were not a terrorist outfit, the White House (PHS) on Thursday said they were a dangerous organization with tactics akin to terrorism.

"We have expanded sig- nificant sanctions of money and American citizens members have grown in the fight against the Taliban because they do not challenge the United States' interests and services members inside of Afghan- ghanistan," the White

White House press secretary said. When asked why Talibans were not opposed with a senior official said, "They (the Talibans) also carry out tactics that are akin to terrorism. They do pursue targets and in an effort to advance their agenda."

The United States has designated the Taliban "terrorist on P Coleman"

US Classifies Info about ANSF

KARLIS - The Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA) on Thursday called extremist a complex phenomenon that could be tackled only through joint national and global efforts.

A one-day conference titled "Deterritorialization in the Region" - was arranged in Kabul by MoFA
Ex-Guantanamo Detainees Returning to Insurgency

The Taliban has moved to reintegrate former detainees into its ranks, a potential threat to regional stability.

The decision was announced by the Taliban's political office in Qatar, where the prisoners were transferred from Guantanamo Bay in 2014. The move follows months of negotiations between the Taliban and the Afghan government.

The Taliban has said that the former detainees will be given training and support to prepare them for future conflict. The move is seen as a significant development in the ongoing peace process.

The Taliban’s political office in Qatar said in a statement that the former detainees would be given all the support they need to return to their communities and contribute to the reconstruction of their homeland.

The move is likely to be welcomed by some in the Afghan government, which has been seeking to reintegrate former detainees into society.

However, it is likely to be viewed with skepticism by others, who are concerned about the potential for re-recruitment and renewed conflict.

The Taliban’s decision comes as the Afghan peace process continues to stall, with both sides appearing to lack the political will to reach a comprehensive agreement.

The United Nations has called on both sides to continue their efforts to reach a peaceful resolution.

The Taliban said in its statement that it was committed to building a peaceful and inclusive future for Afghanistan, and that it was working with the Afghan government to ensure that the former detainees had the support they needed to reintegrate into society.

The move is likely to be welcomed by some in the international community, who have been calling for a peaceful resolution to the Afghan conflict.

The Taliban has previously said that it was committed to ending the war and to building a stable and prosperous future for Afghanistan.
January 31, 2015

Terrorists are Not Terrorists?

One may argue that every human being has a common sense if what one wants is that human life shall be saved. The fact that human beings has always been able to live together, to coexist peacefully, to be able to find happiness and to be able to enjoy the health of others, is the most important thing that we can achieve.

Muhammad Rashed Saleh

Our Youth and Their Responsibility

A man got very angry at a cat in his house. He ticked it a kick and started shouting at it. The cat then ran away to another room. When the man came back, the cat was nowhere to be seen.

But Muhammad Rashed Saleh was not only angry with the cat. He was also very angry with the country. He had been living in Afghanistan for 10 years and he did not like the way things were going.

He was born in 1983 in Kabul, Afghanistan. He grew up in a family where violence and poverty were the norm. His father was a police officer and his mother was a housewife.

At the age of 16, he joined the Taliban and fought against the government. He fought for 5 years until he was captured by the Afghan forces.

He spent 3 years in a prison before being released in a prisoner exchange deal. After his release, he decided to return to his family and start a new life.

He now works as a human rights activist and advocates for the rights of the youth.

Muhammad Rashed Saleh

Editorial and Opinions

Chairman / Editor in Chief:
Dr. Hussain Yasa
Vice Chairman:
Ali Kazi Ali Guzari

Phone: +93 (0)21 299 0412 / 299 0715
Email: editor@dailychakha.com

Address: V.137, Samae 5, Phase 3, Sharifan Graded Sakhi, Kabul, Afghanistan

Chairman and Board of Editors of Daily Chakha.
(1) Human Rights... (continued)

(2) Regional cooperation. Russia's interests and aspirations in the region can be clearly understood in the context of its current priorities. The focus of the state is on strengthening the Russian-American relationship, which is seen as the key to realizing broader regional cooperation.

(3) WH Refuse...

(4) US Classifie... (continued)

(5) 12,000 SQ... (continued)

(6) 20 Ex-Government... (continued)
Russia to Create "Airspace" to Maintain "Military Superiority"

MOSCOW — Russia will build a new military base known as a "military presence" in part of its effort to maintain its military superiority. Defense Minister Sergei Shoigu said Friday that the new base would be constructed on the site of an existing Russian military base in Syria.

The Defense Ministry said the new base will be used to deploy "military units and forces" for the purpose of defense and security. It will also serve as a hub for joint exercises and drills.

The Russian military has been involved in military operations in Syria for several years, and the new base will likely be used to support these efforts.

Is it possible to create a map of these locations using the text?

NATO States for Baltic States, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria

ROCKENH. — NATO and Russia are in talks to increase military cooperation in the Baltic states, Poland, Romania, and Bulgaria. The talks are focused on the first of their kind agreement that would involve the 28-member military alliance and the four NATO member countries.

The goal of the talks is to strengthen the alliance's collective defense capabilities and improve the flow of information and resources.

It was also reported that the talks will also discuss issues related to the deployment of NATO troops and equipment in the region.

Is it possible to create a map of these locations using the text?

Israel, Iran, Germany to Expand Bilateral Ties

TOKYO — Israel, Iran, and Germany have agreed to expand their bilateral ties in various fields. The agreement was reached during a meeting between the three countries' foreign ministers.

Israel and Iran have been facing tensions in recent years, and the agreement is seen as a step towards缓和 tensions between the two countries.

The official report also stated that the countries plan to cooperate in the fields of trade, investment, and security.

Is it possible to create a map of these locations using the text?

New Saudi King in Major Government Shake-Up

Riyadh — Saudi Arabia's new King, Salman bin Abdulaziz, has fired two of his half-brothers from powerful positions, replacing them with other Saudi princes, according to a statement released early Friday.

The statement said that the new King has appointed three new officials to take on the duties of the former half-brothers. The new officials are Prince Mohammed bin Nayef, Prince Turki bin Faisal, and Prince Saud bin Faisal.

The move comes amid a broader shake-up of the Saudi government. Several key figures have been appointed to important positions in recent weeks, including the appointment of Prince Mohammed bin Nayef as deputy prime minister and minister of interior.

Is it possible to create a map of these locations using the text?
PCS Warn of Nationwide Protest Because of Election Law

KABUL - Members of Provincial Councils (PPC) on Thursday urged the government to hold an election. In a letter signed by Wolesi Jirga’s (Lower House) President, the PPCs called upon the government to amend many articles of the election law. The PPCs also demanded the president to sign an amended election law. On Wednesday, the Wolesi Jirga approved a number of amendments to the election law, though the provincial councils members are upset over the changes proposed by the government.

3 US Contractors Killed in Kabul Airport

KABUL - Three U.S. contractors were killed in an insider attack on Thursday night in Kabul International Airport, according to U.S. officials. According to several foreign news outlets, an official from the U.S. Defense Department has confirmed the deaths of the three U.S. contractors, but did not provide details of the attack. The Afghan Ministry of Defense (MoD) deputy spokesman Dawlat Waziri confirmed the incident, but said he did not provide any details. He added that three others were injured.

UNICEF Launches Appeal to Reach Over 60 Min Children

GENEVA - The United Nations Children’s Fund (UNICEF) on Thursday launched its largest-ever appeal for $1.1 billion dollars to reach 60 million at-risk children affected by conflict worldwide. Over 150 million children worldwide are at risk and 23 million at risk in Afghanistan. UNICEF reported that an average of 100 children die each day from violence, hunger, disease and abuse.

Finance Confusion Draws Mixed Reaction

KABUL - Some critics on Thursday said Israel's decision to reject 10 registration requests by 10 private schools, but others were applauding the decision, had also violated. President Mohammad Ashraf Ghani introduced a list of 120 private-schools and heads of ten independent departments for a vote of confidence. 120 applications seeking vote of trust on Wednesday, the lower house approved seven minister-designates and the 23rd session of the house, but rejected 10 others.

Pakistan Ambassador Calls on New Foreign Minister

KARACHI - The Pakistan ambassador to Afghanistan on Thursday met Afghan Foreign Minister, Salahuddin Rahmanzai to convey his concern about the situation in Afghanistan. In a letter, the ambassador welcomed the decision to restart a government in the country.

Invitation to Tender No. 83194037 for Transportation Service

GIZ (German International Cooperation) is a German organization working for a long time in different sectors in Afghanistan for development of the country. In order to facilitate and ensure timely transportation of goods and statistical data to all the 34 provinces of Afghanistan, GIZ is going to make a framework contract with a transport company per as per the following conditions.

FAIZABAD/FEROZKOH - Provincial Council (PC) members of Nangarhar, Badakhshan and eastern Afghan provinces shut down their offices in protest against the Wolesi Jirga's decision barring them to overlook local administrative issues, the members said Thursday. 49 members of the lower house of parliament on Wednesday decided provincial councils did not require the right to supervise or evaluate the performance of local departments. But the protesting PC members were of the belief that they should be able to monitor the right because they were the only ones who could.

KARLZ - Marshal Fahim University, Kabul, Afghanistan, promotes military, Professional Education for Cadets

KARLZ - Marshal Fahim National Defense University Rector Major General (Retd) Dr. Shah Rashid said with the help of the Ministry of National Defense, the university will provide professional education to the military cadets currently enrolled in the academy. The National Defense University is divided into six branches, including the Peace Operations branch.