Ghani Urges Leaders Not to Forget Afghanistan

MUNICH - During the second day of talks at the Munich Security Conference on Sunday, President Ashraf Ghani implored European and other world leaders to remain vigilant and engaged in the fight against terrorism in Afghanistan, even while new crises emerge in Arab nations.

Ghani warned that terrorism remains a global threat, a point many other conference participants made. But Ghani’s concerns that the NATO coalition withdraw and events surrounding groups like the Islamic State in Iraq and Syria (ISIS) and al-Qaeda in the Arab peninsula might cause Western allies to shift away from Afghanistan. Grounds Barren for Afghan Refugees

The past three decades of war could bring nothing but miseries of homelessness, social isolation, acute state of deprivation, to Afghan refugees who have been staying in various countries, ranging from Eastern to Western, for over decades. The late owing rental laws until the state of liberal democracy provided the refugees with basic like non-militarizing and neutral and great days. Nevertheless, the former being either Islamic democracy (Pakistan) or dictatorial states (Iran) hardly provided a certain degree of liberty and facilities.

Pakistan has been a hospitable country, hosting scores of legal and illegal immigrants. According to the UNHCR, it is alleged Afghan refugees who have been recorded in Pakistan where most of them are living in Peshawar and other cities of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa. Around five million immigrants have been recorded in these cities for more than three decades. To complement the UNHCR’s efforts and those of other international partners, the government extended the validity of Afghan refugees’ Proof of Registration (PoR) cards until the end of 2015, issued birth certificates for 80,000 Afghan refugee children, provided land for several refugee villages, and given refugees access to public services and health clinics. Apparently, the refugees in Pakistan enjoy certain degree of freedom and right to access to basic elements of life. Nevertheless, there are multiple complications hindering on the way to their own going lives ranging from insecurity, health and education. Pakistan is a developing country with a huge population; most frequently, the basic facility of health and education can hardly sustain the growing needs of its indigenous citizens. The host country despite being reward with funds from corresponding agencies, already grappling with variant problem, could do little to turn the face of refugeehood. However, the refugees inhabiting, often location enjoy a noticable share of studying in public schools and seek access to basic health units. The multi-cultural society it feasible to refugees easily socialize in Pakistan boldly while having homogenous via mental, social and cultural practices. Such, all provisions consider the case of partation of small fractions of refugees which make great law for Afghanistan in term of human resources.

In the wake of growing terrorists attacks particularly, the former Peshawar terroristic incidence; the government planned to tighten the security net. Moreover, the provincial government of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa concluded the terrorist attack on an army school in Peshawar had been planted in Afghanistan and amended the Afghan refugees should (the state in a month). Subsequently, regular raids were made to search out a credible clue to the perpetrator of Afghanistan refugees held at the prime suspect and were subjected to frequent maltreatment and harassment.

Legislation of mistreatment and abuse of refugees at the hands of the police continue to emerge ever since Peshawar incidence. The adoptive measures that involve picking on easy targets, especially economically poor refugees who may have little or no means of protection, can never find a coherent justification. The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) in its annual report and other legal imantiation documents can state for the year 2015, only, it holds the right to legally seek peace for Afghan refugees. As the Afghan government is obliged to protect Afghan refugees to their homeland based on their willingness, they have been provided by the UNHCR and the International Non-governmental Organizations (INGOs) have been carried out. What is most disturbing however, are allegations of mistreatment of Afghan refugees by the police and other law enforcement. The UNHCR and IHRC have been picking up students and studies and subjecting them to trials while to not result in any results.

The increasing of taliban attack to Afghanistan and Pakistan has resulted in the number of Afghan refugees, who are currently about 1.7 million. It is an increase due to the increased number of those who are fleeing from the conflict in Afghanistan. The number of refugees in Pakistan has increased significantly due to the increased number of those who are fleeing from the conflict in Afghanistan. The number of refugees in Pakistan has increased significantly.

The impact of the conflict in Afghanistan on the population of Afghanistan is massive. The conflict has resulted in the displacement of millions of Afghans, predominantly from rural areas to urban centers. This has led to a significant increase in the number of internally displaced persons (IDPs). The situation is made worse by the ongoing conflict, which has continued to cause displacement.

In Afghanistan, the rights enjoyed by Afghan human rights are included in the constitution of the country, which guarantees freedoms, such as freedom of speech, religion, assembly, and travel. However, the implementation of these rights is not always effective due to the ongoing conflict and political instability. This has led to a lack of protection for human rights, which is exacerbated by the lack of government capacity and resources.

The adoption of Human Rights Law is the outcome of the struggle for freedom and democracy, and it serves as a reminder of the human rights abuses that have taken place. It is important for the Afghan people to be aware of their rights and the steps they can take to protect them. The law provides a framework for the government to ensure that human rights are respected, and it serves as a basis for legal action against those who violate these rights.

The adoption of Human Rights Law is a significant step forward in the struggle for justice and democracy in Afghanistan. It represents a commitment to upholding the fundamental rights of all citizens, including women, children, and minority groups. The law also provides a mechanism for redress and accountability, which is essential for the healing and reconciliation process in Afghanistan.
