Global Terrorism on the Rise

It is more than a sense of realmotomy, population explosion, and crime and violence from heaven to earth. It is the fright of the people of Afghanistan. This worst state depicts this piece of land, either by choice or by design is pushed to the precipice of hell - given the spread of terrorism turning into the most frightening of all. Yet, it is not unexpected. That Terrorism has engendered fangs instead of multiplying into incalculable citizens.

At present times, terror has become a black clock and a nightmare for public and is one of the gravest problem the world faces. Though it is a global issue but Afghanistan has been at the heart of it. Afghanistan and international communities were wage against terrorism with the spirit of fire and toil.

The terrorist acts have escalated in terms of number and the number of victims as well as the number of terror threat points.

The countries report 13,463 attacks in 95 countries in 2014 — say from a third from 10 to 18 countries. Afghanistan ranked on the list as one of the countries with the highest number of terrorist groups. The country has been suffering from insurmountable violence since the arrival of the Soviet invasion. In total 32,727 people were killed compared to 17,000 in 2013, according to the figure prepared by the National Consortium for the Study of Terrorism and Responses to Terrorism. A further 49,300 people were injured.

This report is an eye opener for policy makers, turning the war into a more intense race in order to let that war is still a deadly war. One attributes this daunting situation to several factors which include: social and political instability, economic and financial instability, religious intolerance, external hands or internal conspiracies and religious-political propaganda.

It is very hard for people who have to face various threats - they do not only take ordinary innocent lives on that war, but they also make the real image of Islam before the world through their behavior.

Terrorism is a problem which the world has been facing in the last three decades. It has become a global problem against which an internationally concerted battle has to be fought. It is possible to look for a way of solution with a purpose of creating fear and panic in the minds and psyche of people to implement a solution through killing and terrorism. One is silent in the presence of such terrorism.

Terrorism is a war which is fighting on two fronts. It has been fighting against the forces of justice and peace, and the forces of terrorism are fighting against the forces of justice and peace. It holds the position of terrorism in the world among the forces of justice and peace. It is the problem of terrorism which is facing the people of the world.

The terrorist group of international fame Islamic State has surpassed Al-Qaeda in the numbers of people around the world. In addition, the group has also gtrown, making it more powerful than ever before. The Islamic State has been able to win more hearts, minds and influence among the people of the world, especially in the Arab world.

The report finds Islamic State feared a high vote in the upcoming elections. In total, 13,800 people were killed compared to 17,000 in 2013, according to the figure prepared by the National Consortium for the Study of Terrorism and Responses to Terrorism. A further 49,300 people were injured.
