Germany

Afghanistan Withdrawal in 2016 is Premature as Taliban Resurgent

BRUSSELS - The German government wants to extend its deployment in Afghanistan for one year initially. German newspaper Welt am Sonntag cited high-ranking NATO sources at the time. Although NATO has withdrawn almost all of its combat troops, it still has soldiers stationed in the country to train Afghan forces. Up to about 800 German troops are in Afghanistan on this mission.

NATO had planned to withdraw all forces by the end of next year. "At the meeting of the NATO defense ministers in the coming week in Brussels, Berlin will suggest extending the mission," Welt am Sonntag reported.

600 'Militants' Flee Syria, Vows to Ramp Up Bombing: Moscow

MOSCOW - Russian air strikes targeting the Islamic State group in Syria have caused "millions" of migrants fleeing the war-torn country to cross into Europe, security experts say, dismissing as "false" reports that migrants had flown in.

"We have been monitoring the results of Russia's first three days of air strikes, a senior official with the General Staff said.

"Today, no fewer than 600,000 migrants have been reported to be crossing into Europe," he said, adding that "it is not clear whether these people are fleeing from war or seeking a better life." He cited previous estimates of up to 800,000 people per week entering Europe.

A Brutal Taliban Show in True Colors This Past Week

KARUL - Recent attacks by Taliban insurgents in Kabul city have shown their brutality and how they have become more sophisticated in their operations.

"Taliban fighters have become more aggressive and successful in their attacks," said a government official.

"They are targeting civilians and security forces, but the Afghan government is responding with a strong counter-offensive," he added.

Emotions Run High in Parliament over Dand-E-Ghor Deal

KARUL - Emotions ran high in Parliament today over a deal between the Afghan government and a local warlord, Dand-E-Ghor.

"The deal is against the interests of the Afghan people," said an opposition leader.

"We will not support any deal that is detrimental to our nation," he added.

Air Strike on Afghan Hospital under Investigation: Carter

WASHINGTON - U.S. Defense Secretary Ash Carter said the United States will investigate how an airstrike hit a hospital run by Malala Sairi in Afghanistan.

"We believe this incident was an accident," he said.

Mumtaz Super

Hurry! 2.40 AfS / min

With best International call rates to

- USA Canada China India Pakistan

4.99 AfS / min

Migrate to Mumtaz Super

Existing Customer type: P and send to 3378

New Customer type: F and send to 376
The Scandal and Tragedy in Kunduz

By Hujjatullah Zia

Human rights and dignity are violated to a great extent in Kunduz despite the government's efforts. The report revealed that the rights to liberty and property are trampled upon flagrantly by people, military and non-military formations, and families and tribal leaders. The report also documented that human rights violations have increased in in the last one year. In some areas, reports have been filed with the authorities and human rights organizations, but the authorities have failed to act. In the report, it is observed that the government failed to act. In the report, it is observed that the government failed to act.

The Kunduz police station was raided and 10 people were killed, including 7 policemen. An official of the provincial police said that the police were responding to a complaint about a robbery. The officials added that the suspects were believed to be part of a larger group that was responsible for several attacks in the area.

In another incident, a group of police officers stopped a vehicle near the Kunduz airport and searched it. During the search, the officers found a weapon and arrested the driver. The officials said that the driver had been involved in several crimes in the area and was wanted by the police.

In addition, there have been reports of human rights abuses in Kunduz in recent months. The reports have called for immediate action to address the violations.

The government has been criticized for its failure to address the human rights abuses in Kunduz. Many have called for the government to take action to address the violations and ensure accountability for those responsible.

The Kunduz province has been the site of several human rights abuses in recent years. The reports have highlighted the need for the government to take action to address the violations and ensure accountability for those responsible.

The government has been criticized for its failure to address the human rights abuses in Kunduz. Many have called for the government to take action to address the violations and ensure accountability for those responsible.

The Kunduz province has been the site of several human rights abuses in recent years. The reports have highlighted the need for the government to take action to address the violations and ensure accountability for those responsible.

The government has been criticized for its failure to address the human rights abuses in Kunduz. Many have called for the government to take action to address the violations and ensure accountability for those responsible.
(2) Ghani Promises. - As reported in the latest update, the Afghan government has promised to give the Afghan people a chance to present their viewpoints and demand that their voices be heard. They also promised to take all necessary steps to ensure the safety and security of the Afghan people.

(3) Afghan Mandate for the Afghan Cabinet. - As reported in the latest update, the Afghan Cabinet has been given the power to make decisions that affect the country.

(4) Germany does not want to put what has happened in Afghanistan on the line. - The final withdrawal, which is planned for 2022, is still a long way off. The German government has not given the Taliban the support they need.

(5) Afghan Taliban fighters on Monday had entered the town of Ghazi Kandahar, a town in the north of the country. The government has not yet confirmed the news. Afghan government officials have described the situation as serious and demanded that the government take immediate action.

(6) The situation in the city of Ghazni has proven worse. - As reported in the latest update, the situation in Ghazni has deteriorated significantly in recent weeks. The city has been under attack for several days, and there are reports of civilians being killed and injured.

(7) The US has conducted a large airstrike in Kandahar. - As reported in the latest update, the US has conducted a large airstrike in Kandahar to neutralize the Taliban leadership. The airstrike was carried out in response to the recent attacks.

(8) Afghan security forces take up fighting positions. - As reported in the latest update, Afghan security forces have taken up fighting positions in several areas to counter the Taliban's advances. There have been reports of intense fighting in these areas.

(9) Taliban fighters attack. - As reported in the latest update, Taliban fighters have attacked several areas in Afghanistan. There have been reports of intense fighting and civilians have been killed.

(10) A strong earthquake hit Afghanistan and Pakistan. - As reported in the latest update, a strong earthquake hit Afghanistan and Pakistan. The government has not yet released details about the damage caused by the earthquake.

(11) The Taliban are advancing. - As reported in the latest update, the Taliban are advancing in several areas in Afghanistan. There have been reports of intense fighting and civilians have been killed.

(12) The situation in Afghanistan continues to deteriorate. - As reported in the latest update, the situation in Afghanistan continues to deteriorate. The government has not yet released details about the damage caused by the Taliban advances.

(13) Afghan security forces take up fighting positions. - As reported in the latest update, Afghan security forces have taken up fighting positions in several areas to counter the Taliban's advances. There have been reports of intense fighting in these areas. Afghan security forces have been heavily bombing Taliban positions in recent days to force them to retreat.

(14) Afghan government officials have said that they will do everything in their power to ensure the safety and security of the Afghan people.

(15) The Taliban have not been able to take over the government. - As reported in the latest update, the Taliban have not been able to take over the government. There have been reports of intense fighting and civilians have been killed.

(16) The situation in Afghanistan continues to deteriorate. - As reported in the latest update, the situation in Afghanistan continues to deteriorate. The government has not yet released details about the damage caused by the Taliban advances.
Estonia Raids Estimates of Number of Asylum Seekers to 50,000

HOLAND - The latest estimate from the recently established Estonian Immigration Board shows that the number of asylum seekers is estimated to be around 50,000, based on an average of 500 applicants per day.

The Immigration Board, which was established by the government in April, has been monitoring the number of asylum seekers and their reasons for seeking asylum. According to the board, the majority of applicants are from Afghanistan, Iraq, and Syria.

“While we have been receiving a steady flow of applications, the recent increase in numbers is worrying,” said board chairman, Janis Vaher. “We are doing everything we can to process applications as quickly as possible, but we need more resources to cope with the current situation.”

The board has also been working with local authorities to provide support and assistance to asylum seekers, including language classes and counseling services.

In addition to processing applications, the board is also responsible for managing asylum seekers while they are in Estonia. This includes providing accommodation and food, as well as assistance with legal and social issues.

The board has been working closely with local authorities to ensure that asylum seekers are treated with respect and dignity, and that they are given the support they need to integrate into Estonian society.

The board’s estimates suggest that the number of asylum seekers in Estonia will continue to increase in the coming months, and that more resources will be needed to meet the demands of the growing population.

Note: This is a fictional news article and does not reflect real events or current discussions.
Military Operations Launched in Badakhshan after Taliban Attack

FAZARAD - The Afghan security forces have launched military operations in Wardak and Badakhshan provinces of the northeastern Badakhshan province in order to clear the insurgents, local police officials said Saturday.

The operation was launched on Friday night after the arrival of reinforcement from Kabul and still continue in the district to clear the insurgents, a spokesperson for Provincial Police Chief Lal Mohammad Ahmadzai said.

"The Afghan forces are also supporting the ground forces in the operations," Ahmadzai said. "So far, more than 30 Taliban insurgents were killed in the operation."

In addition, two security force members were injured in the operations. This comes after Taliban insurgents launched an attack on a military convoy in the province.

Int'l Charity's Afghan Clinic Bombed, 9 Staff Dead

KABUL - Nine local workers for Doctors Without Borders were killed and 20 were missing after an explosion near their hospital in the northern Afghan city of Kunduz that may have been caused by a U.S. airstrike.

In a statement, the international charity said the "surgical bombing" took place at 2144 GMT. U.S. authorities have been fighting to distance Taliban insurgents who overran Kunduz on Monday.

Syria to be ‘Another Afghanistan for Russia’

BEIRUT - Syria, full of ' duties for independence, Russian press has been seen recently in parts of northwest Pakistan and Penjikent have appeared on walks in several cities. There are people in the Moslem, Arab, and Afghan, respectively.

Afghan Troops Retake Badakhshan District

FAZARAD - Ministry of Defense has confirmed that after a large-scale military operation, Afghan security forces managed to retake Badakhshan district in the northeastern Badakhshan province on Saturday morning.

The operation was launched on Friday night after the arrival of reinforcement troops from Kabul. The district was taken over by the Taliban last month.

A provincial council has said that the Taliban are making gains in some other parts of the province after accepting control of Wardak and Badakhshan.

Omar MP, Fawzia Kofi said: "If the collapse of Wardak and Badakhshan to Taliban is not handled, this will bring Faizabad, capital of the province, under threat." MP Fawzia Kofi said. (Sources)