Environmental Pollution Causing Irretrievable Harms!

By Asamayari

With the onset of industrialization the issue of the environment and industry got considerable importance. It is a fact that these industries brought the world to be considered a pristine issue. No longer are industries considered an economical necessity. They are now recognized as one of the major reasons for global pollution and thus also the biggest threat to the world's environment. It is a fact that these industries not only cause destruction and harm to the environment but they also cause harm to the human body. The industrial waste from these industries is a major source of pollution. The industrial waste contains harmful substances that can cause severe health problems. The industrial waste can also contaminate the water, air, and soil. This pollution can cause respiratory problems, skin problems, and even cancer. The pollution can also affect the fertility of the soil, making it difficult for plants to grow. This pollution can also affect the quality of the water, making it unsafe for consumption.

Factors that Can Worry Whether to Reappear of Taliban

By Hammadi Rasool Shah

It is now almost six months since the Taliban left the power center. Many analysts had given their predictions more than two years before, that the Taliban will come back to Afghanistan. The whole world is catching up with that prediction. These predictions were made on the basis of some factors. These factors are:

1. The Taliban will come back if the government is not able to control the situation in the country.
2. The Taliban will come back if the government is not able to control the situation in the country.
3. The Taliban will come back if the government is not able to control the situation in the country.
4. The Taliban will come back if the government is not able to control the situation in the country.
5. The Taliban will come back if the government is not able to control the situation in the country.

The government is not able to control the situation in the country. The government is not able to control the situation in the country. The government is not able to control the situation in the country. The government is not able to control the situation in the country. The government is not able to control the situation in the country.

The silence of international forces and their government is also against the Taliban. In the past, they have caused military operations in the country. But now they are not able to do so. The Taliban are now able to control the situation in the country. The government is not able to control the situation in the country. The government is not able to control the situation in the country. The government is not able to control the situation in the country. The government is not able to control the situation in the country.

The 12,000 Afghans who left Kabul on a U.S. airlift as a stampede as they fled shelling, bombing and shooting in the city had been the spokesmen for the provincial government, leaders and doctors who were taken to the hospital in the previous three days. In Pakistan, Kandahar and Jalalabad, the president of the country's Ministry of Education, who had died in the Khyber Pass, had said his province was only a day's journey away.

The tire from Afghanistan's Balkh province had been left at the airport in Rome as it came in reports from recent fighting, which was marked by heavy attacks by the Taliban, although it is believed that the Taliban may have suffered heavy casualties.

The province is also suffering from drought and widespread poverty, and despite vast mineral deposits in the region, it has not been exploited. The Taliban has also been criticized for its policies towards those who have settled in the area as they are likely to damage the region's economy.

In Kandahar, the Taliban has held a meeting with leaders of the Afghan National Security Council and the foreign ministers of the United States and Britain. The Taliban has confirmed it has launched an offensive against US and NATO forces in the area.

The reason is to discourage some of the neighboring countries for fear that the US and NATO forces in Afghanistan cannot support the Taliban's offensive without challenges. Amrani did not name any specific country that the Taliban is pointing towards as it is the case that their country is standing in the way of the Taliban's offensive.
