Cancer (June 20-July 20)

A close friend or relative could be a source of support and encouragement. It may be easier to confront your problems and difficulties if you can talk to someone who can listen and offer advice.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

Someone may place demands on you today. If you resist, you may feel that you are not doing your duty. Instead, try to communicate your wishes and try to resolve any conflicts in a peaceful manner.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

You have had unexpected change today to some things that are usually held fast for a long while. Instead of fighting, try to incorporate what you can into the situation and come to a new understanding.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

A new opportunity might come your way. If you do not act quickly, you may lose it. However, if you take the initiative and act today, you may be able to take advantage of this new opportunity.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan.19)

You can escape the pressure of change to some extent, but you should keep in mind that a relationship with another person will soon come to an end. This is a good opportunity for you to let go of your past relationships and move on.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

You are not interested in defending your scenes against a attack today because it is too stressful. As a general rule, your emotional reactions are influenced by your rational thoughts. Nevertheless, you should try to control your emotions and do not let them control your actions.

(1) Terrorism: Al-Qaeda

Al-Qaeda, a group that is believed to be supported by both the Taliban and Al-Qaeda, has been responsible for a number of terrorist attacks in the region. The group is known for its use of suicide bombings and other violent tactics to target government officials, military personnel, and civilians. The group's activities have led to the loss of many lives and have caused significant damage to infrastructure. The United States has been fighting this group for many years, and its efforts have led to the death of many of its leaders, but the group continues to operate in areas where it has control.

(2) European Union

The European Union, consisting of 27 member states, is a political and economic union whose member states have established a single market through a standard framework of laws, policies, regulations, and guidelines. It serves to promote peace and prosperity in the region, and it provides a platform for member states to work together on a variety of issues.

(3) IS Claims

IS claims have been made about the involvement of its fighters in the region, though the specific details are not clear. IS is a militant group that has been active in the region for several years, and it has been involved in a number of attacks, including bombings and shootings. The group is known for its strict interpretation of Islam and its use of violence to achieve its goals.

(4) Security Forces

Security forces in the region have been working to combat terrorism and other threats. The United States and other countries have provided support to these forces, and they have been successful in many cases. However, there are still many challenges to be faced, and the region remains at risk of further violence.

(5) Conclusion

The region is faced with many challenges, and it is clear that more needs to be done to combat terrorism and other threats. The international community must work together to support the security forces and to provide the necessary resources to ensure the safety and security of all.
