Economic Stability Leads to Political Stability

By Dilawar Sherzai

Economic stability leads to political stability. In Afghanistan, economic stability is the key to sustainable development and lasting peace. The government needs to focus on economic growth, poverty reduction, and job creation. By improving the economic situation, the government can gain the support of the people, which is crucial for political stability.

Zubal Witnessed Another Mass Abduction

The individuals driven by evil, misguided ideologies and apathy have put them in the race to dominate - leads to paranoia of a human society set on a mission of murder, a state of paranoia, and by rule of power, aggression, characterized by irremovable bloodshed, abduction, and murder of fellow man. Amidst the continuing military operation at some parts of country - faction of militants have left to their options and promises instead of enjoying an explosion and bombs blasts simply - others have planned to wear the garb of evildoers by kidnapping innocent civilians.

The death toll of the incident, when a group of militants inter-cepted 4 buses along Zabul-Kabul highway, with dignity intact, sheltered 32 passengers and took them away to an unknown location. As dead bodies were found outside the theater of incident, and in a further development, an incident has happened near Nare- rashan district, 15 km from Qalat, the capital of Zabul. Meanwhile the official's office turned to track down the kidnappers behind the plot scene more - i.e. a greater prompt. The government seemingly is making efforts to catch the evildoers by no means to be undermined.

The deaths are turning nightmare for passengers travelling across the country. The militants are using every possible means to undermine the efforts of the government. Constraints and tight security measures on the workers on the militants have not restored, i.e. Mass abduction has always been used either for financial gain or for political cause. The political causes can be interpreted by Afghans of any region.

As per the sources, members of almost 31% of abducted had earned their living, a trend that is considered for political blackmailing. Significantly, the trend is attempting to strike at ethno-sectarian harmony that is likely to resonate as it does not do good to the region.

Previously, seven Hazaras including women and children went through abduction were captured by Taliban. According to activists, two months ago, in the height of cold blooded, indeed it was a cruel killing. The incident sparked a massive demonstration by people of Kabul and other cities.

Unfortunately, the government resorted to confrontation and promises - on the statement that they remained a clear view to perspectives to plots to hunt them down before they turn violent. Hardly would be those that includes: clinical aggression and aggressive group was responsible, the past incident the public officials sought to promote. The government either by erroneous policy or any trafficking has been thought.

The masses of Afghanistan suffer at the hand of Taliban. Afghans are suffering from poor service and security of their citizens within the country whose demands are always anxiously waiting, its service is necessary. The government has been determined to do away with the worries of masses by extending improved governance. The government must learn from the experience of the people, general hope and trust in the movements within the country which has equally impacted passengers, the poor, suffer a lot from the worst, and they have not been ignored. Significantly, many terror- ists are left in the underworld of given transportation - some sort of traffic, some sort of standing army is unlikely to blind at moment widening wits.

Despite the government has not been so far anything possible to bring down the alert of the Hazara community, no progress has been made and, overall, the process has been delayed or ceased. They are being denied government services and their demands are not being addressed. It is essential to address their concerns and work towards a solution to ensure their safety and security.

In this context, it is also crucial for the government to communicate with the people, listen to their concerns, and work together to find a way forward. The government must take the necessary steps to provide a safe and secure environment for the people of Afghanistan.

Mohammadi Signs Yet Another ‘Irregular’ Document

KABUL - In a letter addressed the Attorney General’s Office (AGO), President Ashraf Ghani’s expected, legal advisor Abdul Ali Mohammadi allegedly instructed the legal body to investigate the case of the six, Urban Development Ministry officials - a move demanded by legal experts to ensure the protection of their rights. According to the document, Mohammadi also reportedly assigned a task to follow up the case, another move beyond its domain.

The letter development officials were arrested early June at the Afghan border with Tajikistan when they were trying to cross the country.

They were accused of taking bribes in exchange for allowing vehicles, providing apartments to high-ranking government officials and constructing below-standard apartments.

This latest document allegedly signed by Mohammadi has led to strong criticism among legal experts who say that according to the law, an advisor may not instruct, interfere with the judicially - especially the AGO to conduct an investigation into a case.

In addition they said Mohammadi did not have the authority to assign a task to prove a case.

Ali Mohammadi, a politician of Ghani, said: “Mohammadi is not in a position to make decisions. He is clearly an advisor and everything he dictates must be sanctioned by the president.”

Fuel Prices Rock Markets, as Residents Complain

KABUL - Fuel prices have increased across the country and have provoked the concerns of the residents, the increase is said to be caused by the government for proper management to control the fuel prices in the market.

According to their statement 6.13 Afghanis increased on one liter of petrol and the officials in Gas-Fuel Union have said the fuel prices in the country has gone high by 6.13 Afghanis price increased in the world.

One week earlier one liter of petrol was sold in markets by 6.13 Afghanis but now one liter is sold 8.13 Afghanis. Usually Afghanis residents complain huge hike in fuel price in Afghanistan which, the Government hasn’t paid attention to it at all.

We are also concerned about the current conditions in Afghanistan, there is a peace and rule established and monitor the situation. Because we can’t afford to be the other resident of the country. Head of the Gas-Fuel Union, Ahmadzai Hafiz said “we don’t have acceptable pressure for domestic production of gas and fuel, millions of money of fuel is sold from fuel-gaz to go high.”

Cabinet residents have urged that the government should control the 6.13 dollar has caused the fuel-gaz prices for the Afghan markets and it will have impact in on the basic necessities which is difficult for poor to manage (ATM)
