40% of Terrorists Fighting ANSF Freed from Prison

KABUL - Chief of Army Staff General, Qadam Shah Shahim, said at a Special Forces graduation in Kabul that 40 percent of terrorists currently fighting against the ANSF were one-year inmates who have since been freed.

Speaking at the graduation ceremony of 1,000 officers and soldiers from the Special Forces Special Operations Command in Boh-i-Kheyl, Kabul, the general said that Afghanistan’s armed forces have strong support of their government.

“At the moment 40 percent of inmates who are fighting against us are those who have been released from our own prisons,” said Shahim.

“Those who have released these terrorists from our prisons must apologize to the nation,” he added.

“When the terrorists kill our children and women we never get rest. But we continue our operations to destroy the terrorists,” said Bismillah Wali Zad, an Army Special Operations Commander.

“We special forces promise the people of Afghanistan we will defend the country, property and honor with our blood - as our fathers defended the country,” said Abdul Rahn, a military... (Move on P8-D.)

BEIJING - China is ready to play a constructive role in improving Afghanistan-Pakistan ties and promoting reconciliation in Afghanistan, a Chinese foreign ministry spokesperson said on Wednesday.
