Sharif, Ghani Inaugurate ‘Heart of Asia’ Conference

Afghanistan is the heart of Asia: Nawaz Sharif

Enemies tried to divide Afghanistan but failed: Ghani

Collective Approach to Combat Terrorism, Extremism: Sharif

Socialising is cool

Unlimited Social Media
Facebook+Twitter+Whatsapp
(FUP 20 MB)

25 on-net minutes
15 Afs/day
Activate now: sms D15 to 3378
Deactivation SMS: PU:space-D15 to 3378

65 on-net minutes
25 Afs/day
Activate now: sms D25 to 3378
Deactivation SMS: PU:space-D25 to 3378
Outlook

Libra (Sept 23-Oct 22)

You don't often offer the same degree of caring, even to the people you love. Your friends need more than your help; they need your support too. October could be the month to change that. Allow them to express their ideas, even when they might not be right or useful. When you're in a good mood, others can benefit from your criticism. Be open to suggestions and polite in your writing. October is a time to build bridges, not break them.

Capricorn (Dec 22-Jan 19)

You may discover that your strengths and weaknesses are not as clear to others as they are to you. You will start to enjoy the company of others more. It's important to be aware of your strengths and weaknesses in order to stay on track. You may find it difficult to be open to new ideas, especially when you are not sure of the outcome. However, take time to consider the possibilities and make your decision based on the facts.

Aquarius (Jan 20-Feb 18)

You might feel like you're out of the ordinary, but you're not! Your curiosity and desire to learn more are important. You may also feel like you're not in control of your life, but you are! You just have to trust yourself. October is a time to make changes, but don't force the issue. You'll find that it's easier to make changes when you're in a positive mood.

Virgo (Aug 23-Sep 22)

You have a clear head on you or when you're doing something important, but when you're doing something mundane, you're not as clear headed. Your mind is more scattered during these times, but you're still able to focus on the task at hand. Be careful not to let your mind wander during these times. October is a time to focus on your goals and what you need to do to achieve them.

Sagittarius (Nov 22-Dec 21)

Your feelings may be high today as an unimportant event. You might feel a sense of connection with someone you know or trust, even if you don't know them well. You may also feel a sense of excitement or joy, especially if you're spending time with someone you love. You may feel like you're on top of the world, but remember to stay grounded. October is a time to reflect on your feelings and make sure you're making the right decisions.

Aries (Mar 21-Apr 20)

You're a curious person, but you're not always sure what you're looking for. You may feel like you're out of your element, especially if you're not sure what you're doing. October is a time to focus on your goals and what you need to do to achieve them. You may need to take some time to think about what you want to do and what you need to do to get there.

Cancer (Jun 21-Jul 22)

You can't stop thinking about the people who mean the most to you. You may feel like you're out of your element, especially if you're not sure what you're doing. October is a time to focus on your goals and what you need to do to achieve them. You may need to take some time to think about what you want to do and what you need to do to get there.

Taurus (Apr 20-May 20)

You have many friends, but you don't understand their true intentions. You may be annoyed with their unsuccessful attempts to explain your goals, especially if you're not sure what you're doing. October is a time to focus on your goals and what you need to do to achieve them. You may need to take some time to think about what you want to do and what you need to do to get there.

Gemini (May 21-Jun 20)

People seem to walk out of the woodwork today, especially if they think you're interested in them. You might feel like you're in a better mood, but you're not sure why. October is a time to focus on your goals and what you need to do to achieve them. You may need to take some time to think about what you want to do and what you need to do to get there.
Managing Multiculturalism

By Dilawar Sherzai

The world of ours is embroiled with a variety of thoughts, feelings, perceptions and ideologies. And the reason behind such a condition is the existence of different human races, cultures, languages and religions. Human beings are very complex beings and have a certain number of personal characteristics that make them unique. No one can stand still for killing innocent human beings, nor does it make any difference in their views and opinions. In real sense they are similar to each other. However, the different human races, cultures, languages and religions make them different from each other with different perceptions. Every individual is bound to be different in different senses from others. That is why there is no personality. Differences in thoughts and beliefs are present among different people. They are pursued with extreme sentiments and ultimately guided to take actions and ultimately they are driven to destruction. They are supporting you in building identity. You have no need of getting sick of that. And reconcile it to your life and do not see it otherwise.

The same stands correct for groups and institutions as well and many events are occurring in the world. Among that background, this concept has been vehemently ignored by the people and the violation of human rights has been a killing factor of the human beings. The difference among the people and the groups of people seems to be getting deeper instead of disappearing. The organization process that has been expected to bring people together has been forcing to sabotage human rights of multi-cultural world. The people still believe in the mass destruction of others for their peace and are ready to launch terrorism missions against others.

Definitely, immigration along with the developments in transportation and communication has made it possible for the people of different cultural backgrounds to get closer to each other, which has led to an increase in the real interaction among the human beings. Hence, this is a real thing that society has to manage. There are various challenges that a multicultural society has to face in order to solve the problems of the minorities.

Further, the society wherein multiculturalism has to be developed is the most important one. The nature of this society sometimes takes the form of policies, political platforms, or other items at which it can take the form of community and service organizations. Because of the organization process, it has been easy to set up something in the market. The multiculturalism has not been able to establish a comprehensive political organization in the market. It has been lost somewhere in cultural identity.

The multiculturalism is not an identity that comes from the identification of the individual, but it is a result of the social identity. This is the same situation towards cultural identifications is maintained and it would be very difficult for today's world in the face of common values, laws or systems, which are very necessary to avoid clashes among the cultures and civilizations. Unfortunately, our culture is not showing right respect to the multiculturalism.

On the other hand it is also necessary to strengthen the phenomenon of multiculturalism. Though many countries are facing similar challenges, there is a certain extent, which is unachievable, as every individual of group of people is having personal relations to their own culture and civilization, but they have a particular heritage in their own cultural and civilization, despite the sustainability and the sustainability of some aspects that are not in line with the present time. And even the finding of the opposite may be unnoticed by them which is their natural presence, and their natural presence of their heritage and heritage, but they are not aware of their own culture and civilization, but it has a developed generation.

Anthropological studies reveal that people born into a particular culture are well aware of the cultural and behavioral characteristics. People are divided into different cultural groups, and many people are divided into different groups and all of them may be divided into distinct cultural groups. These groups may be very narrow or wide and it is considered a natural characteristic of human psychology, this has been a developed generation. Anthropology studies say that in judging which culture solely the basis of the culture like Linda's cultural identity is not the case, and the same number of cultural groups that have different values and behavioral patterns, they will find that the people are propitious to their culture and the behavioral patterns of their culture and their culture are also divided into different groups and all of them may be divided into distinct cultural groups.

Being Muslim is a Challenge in U.S. and France

By Hujjatullah Zia

Even though America holds itself to be a land of freedom and equality, many finds it not to be the case. The culture is still rooted in the American Civil War. The Constitution is still living through the War and the war can be seen in many aspects of American society. The war is still present in the American culture.

In the eyes of God, America holds itself to be a land of freedom and equality, but many find it not to be the case. The culture is still rooted in the American Civil War. The Constitution is still living through the War and the war can be seen in many aspects of American society. The war is still present in the American culture.

In the eyes of God, America holds itself to be a land of freedom and equality, but many find it not to be the case. The culture is still rooted in the American Civil War. The Constitution is still living through the War and the war can be seen in many aspects of American society. The war is still present in the American culture.

In the eyes of God, America holds itself to be a land of freedom and equality, but many find it not to be the case. The culture is still rooted in the American Civil War. The Constitution is still living through the War and the war can be seen in many aspects of American society. The war is still present in the American culture.

In the eyes of God, America holds itself to be a land of freedom and equality, but many find it not to be the case. The culture is still rooted in the American Civil War. The Constitution is still living through the War and the war can be seen in many aspects of American society. The war is still present in the American culture.

11) Sharif, Ghani:

Afghanistan is in the hands of the United Nations, and the United Nations is the region will be turbulent. The United Nations Development and extended full support for the peace process in the region, saying it was the "only" opportunity for ending the war in Afghanistan. Sharif also called for collective action to combat the menace of extremism.

"Working for the achievement of a peaceful resolution of the conflict and the establishment of a unified national principal of Pakistan's foreign policy is developing, and efforts are vital for development, and is visible in the United Nations," Sharif said.

The Pakistan-Denmark Ministers welcomed the deluge of promised funds for the reconstruction of the region in the recent UN conference in Copenhagen. Sharif said that Pakistan had a long way to build in this matter to make a difference.

He highlighted that security was a key issue for Pakistan and the region.

The government, the minister said, has decided to form a committee to address the issue of extremism. "We have decided to form a committee to address the issue of extremism and to find solutions," Sharif said. (Monitoring Desk)

12) ISRA"

The government of Afghanistan,

13) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

14) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

15) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

16) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

17) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

18) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

19) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

20) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

21) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

22) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

23) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

24) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

25) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

26) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

27) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

28) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

29) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,

30) Aghanistan:

The government of Afghanistan,
Kerry to Visit Moscow Next Week for Syria, Ukraine Talks

PARIS — U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry will travel to Moscow next week for talks with Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov on the situation in Syria and Ukraine, diplomatic sources said.

Kerry will be in Moscow on Monday, according to the sources. A State Department official said the two foreign ministers would discuss the situation in Syria and Ukraine.

Moscow has been a key player in the negotiations on Syria, where it has sought to prevent a military intervention by the United States and its allies.

The talks come as the Russian government has been accused of violating international law by its military intervention in Ukraine.

Kerry’s visit to Moscow will likely be part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region.

In Ukraine, Kerry has been working to secure a ceasefire agreement and to support the Ukrainian government’s efforts to stabilize the situation.

The meeting is expected to focus on issues such as the continued presence of Russian military personnel in Ukraine, the situation in the eastern part of the country, and the implementation of the Minsk agreements.

Kerry is scheduled to meet with Ukrainian President Poroshenko, a key figure in the Ukrainian government, and with Russian President Putin, who has been a key player in the negotiations on Ukraine.

The meeting is also expected to address the issue of Russian-backed separatists in the eastern part of Ukraine, who have been fighting against the Ukrainian government since 2014.

Kerry’s visit to Russia is part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region and to find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

In Syria, Kerry’s visit is likely to focus on the ongoing civil war, which has claimed the lives of hundreds of thousands of people and displaced millions of others.

The meeting is expected to focus on issues such as the continued presence of Russia’s military in Syria, the situation in the northern part of the country near the Turkish border, and the implementation of the Geneva conference, which was aimed at finding a political solution to the conflict.

The meeting is also expected to address the issue of the continued presence of Russian-backed separatists in the eastern part of Ukraine, who have been fighting against the Ukrainian government since 2014.

Kerry’s visit to Russia is part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region and to find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

In Syria, Kerry’s visit is likely to focus on the ongoing civil war, which has claimed the lives of hundreds of thousands of people and displaced millions of others.

The meeting is expected to focus on issues such as the continued presence of Russia’s military in Syria, the situation in the northern part of the country near the Turkish border, and the implementation of the Geneva conference, which was aimed at finding a political solution to the conflict.

The meeting is also expected to address the issue of the continued presence of Russian-backed separatists in the eastern part of Ukraine, who have been fighting against the Ukrainian government since 2014.

Kerry’s visit to Russia is part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region and to find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

In Syria, Kerry’s visit is likely to focus on the ongoing civil war, which has claimed the lives of hundreds of thousands of people and displaced millions of others.

The meeting is expected to focus on issues such as the continued presence of Russia’s military in Syria, the situation in the northern part of the country near the Turkish border, and the implementation of the Geneva conference, which was aimed at finding a political solution to the conflict.

The meeting is also expected to address the issue of the continued presence of Russian-backed separatists in the eastern part of Ukraine, who have been fighting against the Ukrainian government since 2014.

Kerry’s visit to Russia is part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region and to find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

In Syria, Kerry’s visit is likely to focus on the ongoing civil war, which has claimed the lives of hundreds of thousands of people and displaced millions of others.

The meeting is expected to focus on issues such as the continued presence of Russia’s military in Syria, the situation in the northern part of the country near the Turkish border, and the implementation of the Geneva conference, which was aimed at finding a political solution to the conflict.

The meeting is also expected to address the issue of the continued presence of Russian-backed separatists in the eastern part of Ukraine, who have been fighting against the Ukrainian government since 2014.

Kerry’s visit to Russia is part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region and to find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

In Syria, Kerry’s visit is likely to focus on the ongoing civil war, which has claimed the lives of hundreds of thousands of people and displaced millions of others.

The meeting is expected to focus on issues such as the continued presence of Russia’s military in Syria, the situation in the northern part of the country near the Turkish border, and the implementation of the Geneva conference, which was aimed at finding a political solution to the conflict.

The meeting is also expected to address the issue of the continued presence of Russian-backed separatists in the eastern part of Ukraine, who have been fighting against the Ukrainian government since 2014.

Kerry’s visit to Russia is part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region and to find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

In Syria, Kerry’s visit is likely to focus on the ongoing civil war, which has claimed the lives of hundreds of thousands of people and displaced millions of others.

The meeting is expected to focus on issues such as the continued presence of Russia’s military in Syria, the situation in the northern part of the country near the Turkish border, and the implementation of the Geneva conference, which was aimed at finding a political solution to the conflict.

The meeting is also expected to address the issue of the continued presence of Russian-backed separatists in the eastern part of Ukraine, who have been fighting against the Ukrainian government since 2014.

Kerry’s visit to Russia is part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region and to find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

In Syria, Kerry’s visit is likely to focus on the ongoing civil war, which has claimed the lives of hundreds of thousands of people and displaced millions of others.

The meeting is expected to focus on issues such as the continued presence of Russia’s military in Syria, the situation in the northern part of the country near the Turkish border, and the implementation of the Geneva conference, which was aimed at finding a political solution to the conflict.

The meeting is also expected to address the issue of the continued presence of Russian-backed separatists in the eastern part of Ukraine, who have been fighting against the Ukrainian government since 2014.

Kerry’s visit to Russia is part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region and to find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

In Syria, Kerry’s visit is likely to focus on the ongoing civil war, which has claimed the lives of hundreds of thousands of people and displaced millions of others.

The meeting is expected to focus on issues such as the continued presence of Russia’s military in Syria, the situation in the northern part of the country near the Turkish border, and the implementation of the Geneva conference, which was aimed at finding a political solution to the conflict.

The meeting is also expected to address the issue of the continued presence of Russian-backed separatists in the eastern part of Ukraine, who have been fighting against the Ukrainian government since 2014.

Kerry’s visit to Russia is part of a broader diplomatic effort to de-escalate tensions in the region and to find a peaceful resolution to the conflict.
Berlin will Not Forget Afghanistan: German DM

KARUL - German Defense Minister (DM) Ursula von der Leyen has announced that Germany will continue to support Afghanistan and that her country will not leave Afghanistan alone. In a press conference with Afghan Foreign Minister Haneef Atmar, she said that after the Taliban increased their attacks, Berlin decided to increase its support to Afghan security forces. "We will remain here. We will not leave Afghanistan alone. Security and stability are essential for our Afghan friends," she added. Atmar talked about his talks with world leaders and said that Germany is the only country that wants to see peace in Afghanistan. "We have discussed the situation with other countries," he said.

Afghanistan Situation Extremely Unstable Year after NATO's Departure

KARUL - A year after the withdrawal of NATO-led ISAF (International Security Assistance Force) troops from Afghanistan, the situation in the country remains tense, with the Taliban and other militants still holding sway.

Khashin District Falls to Taliban

HELMAND - Local officials in Helmand said Wednesday evening that Khashin district in the southern province has fallen to the Taliban following heavy clashes between security forces and militants. Head of Helmand provincial council Mohammad Karim Atai said fighting is ongoing in the area, especially at an army base about 2 km from the district government's building. The Taliban has also claimed that the city is now in the hands of the insurgents under government control. Meanwhile, the spokesman for the Taliban, Suhail Shaheen, said heavy clashes are still ongoing between security forces and Taliban fighters in Khashin district. However, he did not confirm the fall of the area.

Khanshin District Falls to Taliban

KARUL - Senior Afghan security forces have failed to repel the Taliban, as the insurgents have taken control of the Khashin district in the southern province of Helmand.

Afghanistan News

Afghanistan, a country often neglected by the world, finds itself at the center of attention again as the Taliban gains control over more areas. The situation in Afghanistan is becoming more unstable with the withdrawal of NATO-led ISAF troops. This has resulted in a rise in clashes between security forces and Taliban fighters, making the situation even worse. The government is struggling to maintain its grip on power, and the country is facing a critical situation.

Pakistan

Pakistani Condemns Deadly Attack on Kandahar Airport

ISLAMABAD - Pakistan on Wednesday strongly condemned the deadly attack on Kandahar Airport that left at least 27 civilians killed and 18 others wounded. In a press release, the Foreign Office (FO) of Pakistan stated that the attack targeted people of Pakistan stand by the brave people of the airport, expressing its grief in their hour of grief. The official denied reports of consolations and condolences to the families and wished a speedy recovery to the people who were injured.

Afghanistan

Afghanistan News

Afghanistan, a country often neglected by the world, finds itself at the center of attention again as the Taliban gains control over more areas. The situation in Afghanistan is becoming more unstable with the withdrawal of NATO-led ISAF troops. This has resulted in a rise in clashes between security forces and Taliban fighters, making the situation even worse. The government is struggling to maintain its grip on power, and the country is facing a critical situation.

Pakistan

Pakistan Condemns Deadly Attack on Kandahar Airport

ISLAMABAD - Pakistan on Wednesday strongly condemned the deadly attack on Kandahar Airport that left at least 27 civilians killed and 18 others wounded. In a press release, the Foreign Office (FO) of Pakistan stated that Pakistan stands firmly with the people of Afghanistan and the government in their efforts to overcome the challenges.

Afghanistan

Afghanistan News

Afghanistan, a country often neglected by the world, finds itself at the center of attention again as the Taliban gains control over more areas. The situation in Afghanistan is becoming more unstable with the withdrawal of NATO-led ISAF troops. This has resulted in a rise in clashes between security forces and Taliban fighters, making the situation even worse. The government is struggling to maintain its grip on power, and the country is facing a critical situation.