GANDAF REFUGEES CAMP

AFGHAN REFUGEES IN PAKISTAN
GANDAF REFUGEES CAMP.

The population of Afghanistan is estimated to be 17 million spread over an area of 253,861 square miles having 1,500 miles common border with Pakistan.

The flight of the courageous Afghan people from their homes is a natural phenomenon. The Soviet sponsored revolutions in Afghanistan with the direct Soviet armed intervention compelled the people of Afghanistan to migrate and seek refuge in Pakistan. The Political, Social, Cultural and Religious suppression coupled with ruthless attitude of Kabul Administration and the Alien forces created an atmosphere of complete insecurity and general scare and it become impossible for them to stay in their homeland.

The first batch of Afghan refugees which crossed over to Pakistan in 1976 (during Daud's Regime) was 1,500. This number rose to 18,329 by the end of December, 1978. Afterwards the trickle developed into a torrent and by 31st Dec., 1981, the number rose to 195,3913 in the North West Frontier Province.
To accommodate and provide basic relief items on purely humanitarian grounds, the Govt. of Pakistan established a number of refugee camps along the 1500 miles long Pak-Afghan Border.

Gandaf, is the oldest and thickly populated refugee camp in the North West Frontier Province of Pakistan. It is located 45 Kilometers East of Mardan off Topi Road, near Topi. Gandaf Refugee Camp consists of Two Refugee Tentage Villages having a total population of 35,946 registered individuals as on 31st December 1981.

Gandaf, Refugee Camp was established in August 1979 when the inflow of refugees from Afghanistan assumed alarming proportion. From 818 in August 1979, the number rose to 35,946 in December 1981. The increase in population in Gandaf Camp is shown in the chart below:
